DID YOU CATCH MARK LIVE?

Recent topics: National Heartbeat Bill makes history in US Congress, pro-abortion schizophrenia in New York Times, defending free speech and more.

Tune in Thursdays at 1:00 PM EST to catch Mark live. Watch on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube. Share on social media!

Dear friend of the babies,

Thanks to you, Created Equal has reached new milestones. #ProjectWeakLink forced America's largest medical waste hauler to stop enabling abortion. Our Justice Ride and Road Trip for Life teams reached dozens of high school and college campuses. And we rescued babies from abortion.

Day by day, year by year, campus by campus, we are becoming more effective in our fight for the hearts and minds of the American people. With your continued prayers and financial support, 2018 will be our best year ever. For the sake of preborn children, it must be.

For those who can't speak,

Mark

Baby Monica. Born October 2017. Her mother thought abortion was her only choice. We helped her see otherwise.

Baby "Monica" Rescued!

Baby Monica's mom planned to abort her at 30 weeks after being hospitalized from physical abuse by Monica's father. But Monica's grandmother reached out to us. We've been working with the family for months, and now Monica has been born!

"I had the honor of wheeling her down to her adoptive parents when she was only an hour old," Monica's grandmother wrote in a letter. "I'm writing her a letter and I'm telling her about Created Equal, who helped save her life."

Monica was one of three confirmed babies rescued in October. Will you help us rescue even more?

Nothing captivates a crowd like our JumboTron outreach! This mass of students lingered for hours on campus, struck by the ugly reality of footage showing babies dismembered before their eyes.

Censorship! Officials tried (and failed) to stop our team from reaching high school students. Watch footage: YouTube.com/CreatedEqualFilms. Much of what we do is defending the rights of pro-lifers to defend babies. We will not back down.

Tell Specific Waste Industries to make baby killers do their own dirty work!

JUMBO CAMPUS DEBATES

We just finished a tour with the JumboTron through Kentucky, a state with only one abortion facility left. On the massive screen, we broadcast footage of abortion procedures caught on camera. The tour stopped by University of Louisville, Eastern Kentucky University, and University of Kentucky.

At University of Kentucky, the largest pro-abortion counter-protest I've seen in years on a campus assembled in response. But even the leader of the protest, UK Feminist Alliance President Sydney Tate, couldn't help admitting on video, "Walking up to this made me cry, because it's so upsetting."

Even those who want to keep abortion legal can't avoid the truth when they see it before their eyes.

Road Trip for Life Launched

The JumboTron tour was one part of a new project launched this fall: the Road Trip for Life. For one month, we sent a core team on the road through six states to create public debate every day.

Our team started their mornings counseling outside an abortion facility. Next, they set up a display on a college campus. Finally, they took their signs to a nearby high school.

Abortion defenders tried to stop them. In Muncie, IN, a school resource officer dismantled our signs. In Ypsilanti, MI, a police officer concocted a nonexistent law to trample our First Amendment rights to demonstrate on public property. See the clips online at YouTube.com/CreatedEqualFilms and watch for updates as our legal team pursues these incidents.

Project Weak Link: Phase 2 Announced

Last year, we launched #ProjectWeakLink aimed at pressing waste hauler Stericycle to stop disposing of victims' bodies for Planned Parenthood. They later disclosed cancelling hundreds of contracts with abortion facilities.

Phase 2 turns to Specific Waste Industries, which takes away dead babies and instruments used to kill them for Kentucky's last abortion facility and others in the region.

Join us to call on Specific Waste to stop enabling the killing!

TAKE ACTION

1. Pray for our team. Our ambitious plan for the new year begins with the JumboTron in DC and Justice Ride to Florida!
2. Call Specific Waste CEO Victor Anderson (502-425-2770). Insist Specific Waste stop enabling child-killing.
3. Send your best year-end gift! With your help, we can see more babies rescued, more preborn defenders recruited to the field, and more enablers of abortion stop disposing of victims' bodies. Please help us make 2018 an even better year for babies at risk of death by abortion.
